U15 Players to Watch at the Gen. adidas Cup

by Travis Clark April 7, 2022

The 2022 edition of the Generation adidas Cup kicks off on Saturday, April 9, as the U15 teams get into the action.

MORE: Teams to Watch at the Generation adidas Cup

It's a chance for the MLS Academies to themselves against each other, and top international teams from around the country.

FC Dallas is once again the host, with all of the competition taking place at the Toyota Soccer Complex in Frisco. Here's a look at some of the players to know from Under-15 MLS squads.

Zackory Campagnolo Orlando City SC - The starting goalkeeper for Orlando's U15s, Campagnolo is a U.S. U15 BNT veteran looking to make a strong case for himself in goal at the GA Cup.

Lionel Gitau, Houston Dynamo - A central midfielder that can cover ground and keep possession ticking over, Gitau's ability to dictate the game in Texas will be key to Houston's chances of progressing from its group.

Ruben Ramos, LA Galaxy - The striker's been a recent call-up to the U.S. U17 MNT and U15 BNT in 2022. He generally leads the forward line for the Galaxy and has shown the ability to score goals on a regular basis for LA.

Emrick Fotsing, CF Montreal - A regular in midfield for the Canadian side in MLS Next action, Fotsing and CF Montreal will have a chance to make a big impression at the tournament.

Grayson Carter, Portland Timbers - An attacking prospect for the Timbers, the wide forward is going to need to be clutch in front of goal to give Portland a chance of progressing. Carter was called up to U15 BNT camp in February.

Marius Aiyenero, Chicago Fire - The forward is a rising star in the Fire Academy, and he's a 2008 playing up. He'll look to provide an offensive impact in a tough group this week.
